Composites Australia Inc. CONNECTION MAGAZINE ADVERTISING PACKAGES

Composites Australia is the national industry association for the Australian composites sector.

Connection, the official publication, reaches manufacturers, suppliers, distributors, educators and researchers across the full supply chain, providing a targeted platform to position organisations within the national composites community.

CONNECTION MAGAZINE ADVERTISING 2026

For over 20 years, Connection has been the official magazine of Composites Australia, the national industry association representing manufacturers, suppliers, researchers, educators and consultancy service providers.

Published three times a year, the 20-page full-colour magazine is distributed to members, industry organisations and government stakeholders, with a digital edition promoted to a broad e-news database and made available via the Composites Australia website.

Connection presents industry activity, technical developments and company capability across the Australian composites sector. Recognised in Australia and internationally, it provides a platform to promote products and services to a defined industry audience.
